Allies Score First Major Victory in Burma Area

8,000 Japanese
Killed in Hard
Jungle Battles

Most of the Nips
Fight to the End

NEW DELHI, INDIA, Feb. 28 (AP)—The Allies have scored their first major victory in Burma with the destruction of a task force of 8,000 Japanese in two weeks of confused fighting in the choking jungles of Arakan north of Akyab, the Southeast Asia command announced tonight.

The Japanese "gradually were driven back, hemmed in, split up, hunted and killed. Most, with their accustomed tenacity, fought to the death. Some battered and wounded escaped through the jungle to the south. A few surrendered."

End of Jap Drive

A special summary thus punctured the end of an ambitious drive by the force of approximately 8,000 Japanese, who set out to isolate and destroy two Indian divisions, the Fifth and Seventh, and open the way for a "sweeping advance" into India."

The drive began auspiciously from the Japanese standpoint.

Japanese Isolated

But as the British counterattack developed the Japanese jungle fighters sent to attack the British rear became isolated and encircled themselves. More than 1,000 of them were killed and about 2,000 were wounded. Today's regular communiqué said at least 500 were killed in the fighting for Ngayekdauk Pass alone.

Allied casualties were declared to have been about a third as high.

With the enemy threat to the pass dissipated, British and Chinese troops continued to press in upon the Japanese-defended jungles on four different fronts, stretching 500 miles from the area north of Akyab to the Ukaung valley in the north.

Mother Held in Death
Of Her Two Children

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28 (AP)—A nineteen-year-old mother charged with "wilfully neglecting x x x her children, thereby causing their deaths," was held without bail today for grand jury action after a hearing before Magistrate George P. Wetman.

Mrs. Louise J. Bozman, whose two children were found asphyxiated by gas from unlighted stove burners Feb. 21, did not testify in her defense. Her merchant seaman husband, Donald F. Bozman, who arrived in Baltimore shortly after his wife's arrest, did not appear.

Police Lt. Thomas Dunn told the magistrate that Mrs. Bozman had been "unlucky to everyone" connected with the young cafe society figure made the renunciation in a letter to the surrogate of New York county.

White House Commission Opposes Lowering of Physical Standards

3,500,000 IN 4-F

Hershey Gives Figures On Distribution of Registrants

By J. W. DAVIS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—A White House commission of military and civilian doctors asserted today that military physical standards must not be lowered, that to do so would cripple the march toward victory.

Winding up a study on the question whether class 4-F contains men who actually could serve and thereby cut down the father draft, the commission came up with this dual conclusion:

1. The physical requirements cannot be reduced without impairing the efficiency of the service.

2. The manpower required for war "can not be obtained except by induction of men living with their families and recourse to all other available sources."

Opinion of Doctors

But the doctors skinned over lightly the "other available sources" and hit hard the idea that family men, sound in mind and body, are a prime source from which the army and navy must draw to get able-bodied "combat replacements" and to meet what President Roosevelt has called a grave manpower shortage.

To help meet the shortage Mr. Roosevelt decreed Saturday an immediate review of all occupational deferments and draft boards were told to give particular attention to deferred men under twenty-six in industry and agriculture. From Capitol Hill over the weekend came a report that 900,000 men of such age have been so deferred.

And from Capitol Hill today came this dissent to the doctors' report by Chairman May (D-KY):

Rep. May Opposed

"All wrong. The army should lower its physical requirements. It should reclassify those who already have been rejected and should quit rejecting men because of illiteracy. Men who are illiterate can still be sharpshooters. All soldiers can't be Harvard graduates."

The report said as to illiterates that the army had taken 75,000 since last June but "there are very few jobs in the navy which can be filled by a complete illiterate."

Hershey Gives Figures

Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey gave the commission this table on distribution of draft registrants between 18 and 38 as of December 1, 1943:

Total living 22,138,000

Lonergan Faces Murder Charge

Helps His Lawyer
In Selecting Jury

By JAMES DEVILIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 28 (AP)—Wayne Lonergan was disclosed at his murder trial today to have renounced any claim to his slain wife's $6,000,000 fortune if their young son were placed in custody of his relatives in Canada.

Declaring the fortune had proven "unlucky to everyone" connected with it, the young cafe society figure made the renunciation in a letter to the surrogate of New York county.

Wrote to Court

Lonergan wrote the letter, it was learned after today's session, upon reading newspaper stories that he was gambling his life against a chance to acquire a one-third dower right in the fortune.

Lonergan calmly aided his defense attorneys in their selection of the jurors who will decide his fate on a first degree murder charge.

Neatly dressed and sitting cool and erect at the counsel table, he whispered with the attorneys in each instance before they passed upon the acceptability of the talesmen who were questioned.

Five talesmen were interrogated and all had been excused—three by the state, one by the defense and one by mutual consent—when trial ended for the day with an adjournment to Wednesday.

Appears at Ease

Lonergan's hair was long and combed back, in contrast to the crew style haircut he had when he was arrested last October, charged with battering, choking and strangling his wife, Patricia, 22, to death in her bedroom.

The defendant was dressed in a neat blue suit and tie and white shirt. Sitting at the counsel table, he appeared as free as any man in the room except for a court officer who sat about four feet behind him. The defense attorney asked each talesman if he would be prejudiced if Lonergan offered no evidence. Those who said they would not be were quickly excused by the state.

Maryland Third In Bond Drive

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28 (AP)—Maryland Fourth War Loan bond sales climbed to 143 per cent of the $191,000,000 quota today, placing the Free State third in the nation in percentage of oversubscription, the war finance committee reported.

Committee Chairman Howard W. Jackson said Maryland sales totaled $273,000,000. North Dakota and Mississippi were tied for first place with 147 per cent.

Tomorrow will be the last day that purchases may be credited to the quota.

Job Preference for Vets Urged By Roosevelt as a U. S. Policy

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—President Roosevelt laid down today as a flat government policy the principle that ex-service men shall set preference in federal employment.

Furthermore, Mr. Roosevelt asked Congress for legislation which would empower the president for the rest of the war and five years afterward, to designate federal jobs which would be available exclusively to veterans.

Where non-veterans are not excluded from competition for employment, veterans under this proposed legislation would get special consideration through a system of adding war service points to their other qualifications.

The president added that the record of the government as to veterans "must be one which will constitute an example for all employers."

The policy was set forth in letters to Harry B. Mitchell of the Civil Service Commission, to the heads of all executive departments and agencies, and to Chairman Ram-speck (D-Ga.) of the House Civil Service Commission.

Kirke L. Simpson Says: Collapse of Finland and Breach In Hitler's Fortress Seems Sure

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Collapse of Finland and the opening of a dangerous northern breach in the walls of Hitler's shriveling fortress of Europe appear close at hand.

Whether Finland surrenders on Russian terms, or fights on hopelessly to extinction, the end must be the same. It is evidenced in the thunder of Russian heavy field gun shells cascading into the Pskov gateway between Estonia and Russia as well as in the roar of Russian bombs exploding on Helsinki.

Date of Estonia

The fate of Estonia obviously is wrapped up in the battle of Pskov. Three powerful Russian armies are converging upon the critical rail and road hub, their longer range guns already at work softening up its Nazi defenses.

Its seemingly certain fall must expose Valk junction, eighty miles to the west and midway on the Latvian-Estonian border, to a two-pronged Russian attack that could unhinge the whole Nazi defense.

Russian forces converging on Pskov are reported within less than fifteen miles from the north and less than thirty miles away to the northeast, east and southeast. They stand also on the narrow, marshy peninsula jutting out from the east between the two lakes north of Pskov that form the Peipus chain, to within three miles of the western shore.

That narrow, frozen water barrier is the only obstacle to a Russian flanking drive southward to cut the Pskov-Valk and even the Pskov-Riga railways far in rear of the beleaguered gateway city. A Russian crossing of the Peipus lakes at the Novo Rappin would give them a west shore footing within sixty miles or less of Valk also.

And Valk is the critical transportation hub for all Nazi forces in Estonia. Through it runs all the important road and rail connections serving German forces in Estonia, including those deployed across the narrow Narva Isthmus between Lake Peipus and the shores of the Gulf of Finland.

The German retreat from northwestern Russia has shortened the Nazi battle front almost one half. From Nevel down the Lovat river to Saraya Russia, then around Lake Ilmen to the Volkov and north to the Leningrad siege ring that front was more than 300 miles long when the Russian northern winter offensive began.

The Germans are holding a front of less than 200 miles in the same theaters now. They have evaded many Russian traps, whatever their battle losses, and are out of the bag except for the increasing danger of being cut off in Estonia by a Russian breakthrough to threaten the Valk hub.

A new manufacturing trick saves a fifth of a mile of arc welding on each gear case for cargo ships.

The Marshall Islands form a 700-mile chain just above the equator

position in Estonia. The offensive could send the German Baltic flank receding back to the shores of the Gulf of Riga for a northern anchorage, free the whole Gulf of Finland of the foe and leave Finland utterly isolated.

No Aid from Germany

The Finns have been fully advised that their Nazi "friends" stand ready to desert them as they deserted Italian Allies in Egypt and Africa. They received no German air help to turn back the significant Russian bomb lashing of Helsinki. There is strong evidence that Nazi defense of Pskov is primarily a rear-guard action covering a planned full retreat from not only Northwestern Russia but from Estonia.

Russian forces converging on Pskov are reported within less than fifteen miles from the north and less than thirty miles away to the northeast, east and southeast. They stand also on the narrow, marshy peninsula jutting out from the east between the two lakes north of Pskov that form the Peipus chain, to within three miles of the western shore.

Home Cooking May Be Postwar Problem

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28 (AP)—High-ranking officers of the army service forces said today that the nation's postwar dietary habits will probably be tremendously influenced by the quality of meals being served now to the more than 7,000,000 men in the army.

Brig. Gen. C. F. Robinson, who with other officers talked informally to newspapermen between sessions of the third service command's food conference, declared that army meals were so satisfactory that "there are a lot of wives who'll have to learn to cook after the war."

New Tax System Seems Probable

By FRANCIS M. LE MAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—The promise of a simplified system of reckoning federal income taxes was held out today by the House Ways and Means committee which conducted what Chairman Doughton called a "harmonious" session with congressional and treasury experts.

"We are making progress," said Doughton with a hope that a bill can be drawn within two weeks.

The proposed streamlined system will not apply to the impending March fifteen returns. It is intended for the 1944 tax accounting.

WE HEAR a great deal these days about postwar planning. Some of it seems sound and practical, and some of it is "crystal gazing."

While literally hundreds of public and private agencies are thinking of postwar planning, there are a few things that realistic individuals are sure of. They know that first and foremost the war has to be won and nothing should interfere with all-out efforts toward this end.

They know that economic tides ebb and flow; that the future, like the past, will experience good times and bad; that when bad times come, many people will face economic hardships.

They know that they, like everyone else, are growing older; that the life of any individual is uncertain; and that in accordance with the immutable laws of nature, heads of families will continue to pass on.

Knowing these things, some 30 million people insured by Metropolitan are providing definite measures of protection against these uncertainties of life through some 29 billion dollars of life insurance.

In addition to providing an anchor to windward for the individuals involved and for their families, the thrift of these policyholders is bound to be of a stabilizing character during the postwar period.

This is Postwar Realism of the highest order.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may not stop until chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and add nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly relieves the cough or you are to have your money back.

MOMMIE!

I'M ON FIRE!

Fire is one of our greatest hazards. The first precaution, of course, is to keep youngsters away from gas burners, furnaces, bonfires, etc. Also have on hand all of the first aid accessories needed to treat burns, scalds, etc. If they should occur so that we can relieve the suffering of little ones until the doctor comes. Remember, doctors are over-worked and often can not "come right over."

Now Only 6 Miles From Rail Center

By TOM YARBROUGH

LONDON, Tuesday, Feb. 29 (AP)—The Red army announced at midnight that its trip-hammer advance upon Pskov had reached to within six miles of that railway bastion in the Baltic region which the Nazis turned into a concentration camp for German soldiers who mutinied on the Leningrad front in January and that three enemy divisions had been routed by a Russian column advancing on Novorozhny, seventy miles to the southeast.

Germans Pay Dearly

The German troops in the line struggled at bloody cost to retain Pskov, on which much of their Baltic defense is predicated, but the Soviet communiqué broadcast from Moscow told of the slaughter of 700 Germans at one point, 500 at another, a battalion at still another and said everywhere the enemy was being forced to surrender, retreat or die. In vast numbers, the Germans were doing all three.

The continuing Soviet offensive has gained up to twenty-five miles in a day's time, liberated 450 communities close around Pskov, and another 200 towns in the region near Novorozhny, the announcement said.

The closest announced approach to Pskov came with the capture of Torsoshino, railway station six miles northeast of the city on the Luga line.

Advance Along Railways

Advancing along the all-important railways, the Russians in passing took Molody on the northeastern line and Lunevo, Podsevye and Veski on the eastern line. It was announced.

Southeast of Pskov, in the drive from the Novosokolniki area toward Novorozhny, the Russians announced three defeated enemy divisions were being pursued along the highway to Novorozhny. Russian forces already are reported within three miles of that town.

Take Many Prisoners

In that sector, as around Pskov, many prisoners are being taken, the Russians said, and several thousand Soviet citizens who were being taken off to Germany for labor have been rescued.

In the German ranks, the Soviet communiqué declared, desertion and defection are becoming widespread and the prisons of Pskov are filled to overflowing with these men.

Elsewhere the communiqué said the long Russian front was completely quiet.

In the armed forces (inducted) 5,540,000

In the armed forces (enlisted) 2,430,000

Disqualified after physical examination 3,357,000

In process of classification examination or induction 1,090,000

Deferred, occupational reasons 3,834,000

Deferred, dependency reasons, 4,454,000

Deferred, other reasons 152,000

Unclassified and unknown 90,000

Thus there are a total of 8,479,000 men in the two classes now set up as the chief sources of needed manpower—those deferred for occupational reasons and those for dependency.

Most States Lag

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 (AP)—

Nearly every state has lagged in meeting draft quotas, a survey showed today, and these are the major reasons given by state selective service directors.

A now vanishing hesitancy about drafting fathers, efforts to keep the draft from hindering war production, and delays brought about by a change-over from the former system and mud towards Pskov, the Russians apparently were shifting their board doctors to military physical examinations prior to induction.

State-by-state reports compiled by the Associated Press included:

NEW YORK—Director Ames T. Brown says state was "about twenty-five per cent short" of January quotas and fifteen per cent short in February. He blamed the physical examination change-over and expects March to be normal, also that President Roosevelt's order for scrutiny of occupational deferments will provide "quite a few 1-A's in the state."

Tin Can Drive
In Frostburg
Is Successful*Workers Had To Work on Sunday Due to Bad
Weather Saturday*RUDOLPH NICKEL

FROSTBURG, Feb. 28.—The tin can collection drive, sponsored by the Frostburg Salvage Committee and advertised for Saturday, February 26, was thrown badly off schedule by unfavorable weather. The same group of boys and adult leaders who volunteered their services for Saturday, offered to carry out the work on Sunday, hence the committee decided to go ahead with the program.

The cans for the tin cans were in the siding and were scheduled to move Monday evening, so rather than holdup the entire program, the Salvage committee started at 1 p.m. with a group of Boy Scouts, Scouting and volunteer workers and, using four trucks, canvassed the entire town.

In some cases where the cans had been taken back into the homes, it was necessary to ask for them, which entailed much extra work, but by 4 o'clock the four trucks were loaded and on their way to Frostburg, W. Va. More than five tons of cans from Frostburg were loaded into the gondolas at Frostburg, along with cans from Westport, Piedmont, Luke, McCoole, Keyser, Grantsville, Oakland, Beryl and other localities affiliated with the Upper Potomac Salvage committee.

The Frostburg drive was directed by Walter Mackay, Harrison Givens, Jr., James Elias, George McLucie, Arthur Beal, Lester Miller, Frank Lewis and a score of others to whom the committee is deeply grateful.

The final check up has not been made in the recent paper salvage campaign, sponsored jointly by the Frostburg Salvage committee and the various troops of Boy Scouts, Cubs and Scouting, but indications are that the campaign will clear better than $400. This money will be divided among the scout troops of Frostburg and vicinity.

Jeanne Morain, Free French and 21, Aims Voice at Post War Paree

By CLAYTON IRWIN
AP Feature Writer

NEW YORK — In Paris Qui Chante, a little cafe on a side street in midtown Manhattan, modern French emigres gather nightly to sip their wine and toast Jeanne Morain as the disease most likely to knock 'em dead in Paris after the war.

A disease, in case you've forgotten your high school French, is a woman who acts, or recites, while she sings. Many Frenchmen think the greatest of these was the late Yvette Guilbert, and when Jeanne Morain sings the quaint, often spicy, songs Yvette made famous a quarter of a century or more ago, Paris Qui Chante rings with explosive cheers.

Jeanne Morain is tall, slim and honey-haired, as French as the Marseillaise, although she was born twenty years ago in Vienna—"by accident." She speaks English with a French accent and vice versa, which is not surprising because her father came from Atlanta, Ga., and she attended French-American schools in France for more than a dozen years.

She got out of France in 1940, just a few steps ahead of the Germans, settled in New York with her mother, and became an entertainer when she volunteered to sing at an amateur show in a summer hotel a couple of years ago.

Into the picture at this point came Raoul Bertin, a transplanted publisher of French music. He was scouting for talent, on the theory that post-war France would demand a complete change of entertainment personnel to replace the top-notchers who have been accused of collaborating with the Germans.

So under Bertin's tutelage, Jeanne Morain began the training period she hopes will lead her to the French stage.

At Paris Qui Chante, she sings almost entirely in French and the program reaches its climax when and backer of restaurants and the diners — always heavy on the musical comedies. He got out of the side of French soldiers and sailors France with a bankroll. But the — begin chanting "Fiacre! Fiacre!" dress business is under new-and- pursuit—with Horses. Bertin hopes temporary—management.

This is the signal for Jeanne to meet.

Allegany and LaSalle Clear Decks For Friday's Intra-City Contest

Campers Defeat Ridgeley, 51-35, and Explorers Drub Beall Mountaineers, 64-45

The Allegany High Campers and the LaSalle High Explorers, who will meet Friday night at Campobello in the climax battle of the 1943-44 city scholastic court campaign, piled up a total of 115 points in winning contests last night.

In clearing the decks for Friday's engagement, the Alleganians turned back the Ridgeley High Blackhawks, 51-35, at Campobello, and the Explorers won over the Beall High Mountaineers, 64-45, at Frostburg. Both were return tussles with the same clubs sweeping home-and-home series.

Allegany, with Bob Spangler doing some nifty goal-toeing for a total of twenty-one points, grabbed a 13-0 lead over the Blackhawks in the opening quarter but was outscored in two of the remaining periods.

The West Siders missed only four shots in the opening round with three of the misses coming during the last two minutes. In the second round, the Blackhawks made fifteen points to Allegany's thirteen to make the score 26-15 at the half.

Stangle Breaks Ice

The Campers, after tallying seventeen markers to Ridgeley's nine in the third heat, caged eight in the closing round to the West Virginians' eleven. The count was 43-24 at the end of the third period.

Jim Macfarlane's basket from the right corner, Spangler's foul, Lou Baker's long heave which cut the cords, Spangler's doubledecker from the foul circle, Johnny Cox's long toss which swished through the hoop and Spangler's fielder and two fouls gave Allegany its 13-0 edge in the opening stanza.

Bob Stangle's doubledecker from far out early in the second period put Ridgeley in the scoring column. Cox's free throw and Macfarlane's twin-pointer made it 16-2 with two minutes gone. Ridgeley began finding the range and with the period half over, the Alleganians' margin had been trimmed to seven points, 18-11. However, baskets by Spangler and Jim Fradisca and the latter's foul sent the Campers out of danger.

Spangler, who missed tying the city scoring record for a single game this season by three points, dropped in seven doubledeckers, most of them one-handers from the foul

Tunney-Heeney-Time-and Space

This is a melodrama of time and space, peace and war. It is a story that starts sixteen years ago, and then switches from a prize ring in New York to the battlefields of the South Pacific. It happens to concern two leading heavyweights by the names of Gene Tunney and Tom Heeney.

Commander Gene Tunney gave me the story.

"As you may recall," he said, "as defending champion I was to meet the leading survivor from a group that included Jack Sharkey and Tom Heeney. I thought and hoped it would be Sharkey. But Johnny Risko—you remember—the Cleveland Rubber Man—took care of Sharkey, with a lot to spare. So I thought Heeney should be given his chance, and Tex Rickard agreed with me. For Heeney had made the best showing from a group that included Heeney, Sharkey, Risko, Jack Delaney and Maloney. Heeney's average was much above the others. Look back over the records."

"I defended my title against Tom Heeney," Tunney continued, "but that is a small part of this story. I always admired the Down-Under Rock for his stamina and his gameless. Knowing that he was my last heavyweight fight, I hardly expected to see Heeney again."

"As a matter of fact I didn't see Tom Heeney again for sixteen years. And the setting was entirely different. For it's a long hike from a ring in New York to a war area in the South Pacific. We had no faint idea that night that we would be meeting again as allies, 10,000 miles away, for a far greater championship."

The Second Meeting

"I found on the other side of the world that Tom Heeney, fighting for our navy, had been turning in a fine job. He was no longer a young fighter. He was well up in his forties. But Tom was in perfect condition, still the Old Rock from Down Under."

"Under these conditions I was more than pleased to recommend him for promotion—for promotion he deserved—a promotion that he got. Tom is now with our battle fleet in the South Pacific, and it's something more than a pleasure to report that he is doing a fine job where he has the respect of all who happen to work with him."

"Old Tom was rightly called The Rock. He had short arms, he was never a great boxer, but he was dead game and could take as many punches as any one I ever saw. I can only say I got a big thrill in seeing him again and in finding out the fine work he was doing in a much more important contest than facing Jack Sharkey or Gene Tunney."

Plans Reshuffle Of Pirate Lineup May Reach Six

Nothing Wrong with Bucs Forty-eight Racers Now Gar Wood Believes War-Eligible for Fifty-fourth Manager Says

By JAMES JORDAN

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 28 (AP)—You can take it from Frankie Frisch: there's nothing much wrong with the Pittsburgh Pirates, from this distance at least, that "a few base knocks won't fix."

Tommy Geatz and Ray Shaffer paced the LaSalle scoring parade in the contest at Frostburg. The Explorers set the pace all the way with the figures standing 16-7 at the halfway mark.

Convolving in a hospital bed after a minor operation, the one-time Fordham Flash went on:

"I'm not predicting anything. I won't have any idea what may be what until after I try these fellows in new spots."

Both oldsters and newcomers will be shuffled according to Frisch's ideas for a new Pirate deal.

Elliott in Right Field

The changes, "if they work out right," will find Bob Elliott, who batted .315 and fielded .949 at third base last year, out in right field. In center would be Jim Russell, taking the place of Vince DiMaggio. Frank Colman, up from Toronto will be over in left field.

"There's some hitting power," Frisch said. "Russell was coming along fast at the end of the season and should add a lot of punch."

DiMaggio, one of the National League's outstanding fly-hawks, batted but 248 last season, and may be cast in a utility role, rather than a regular, for that reason. Vince will be on second, with Frank Zack or Tony Ordenera—both newcomers—at short. "Either way, that will be a good fast infeld with a lot of hitting power," he said.

Sewell Heads Pitchers

The first-line Al Lopez is back as the veteran Al Lopez is back as the first-line catcher and the Flash's mound corps of four southpaws and eight right-handers will be headed again by Rip (Bleeder) Sewell who won twenty-one and lost nine last season. Elwin (Preacher) Roe, lanky left-hander from Columbus, and Jim Hopper, from Toronto, are the most promising rookies.

"That's what it looks like today," Frisch observed, "but it might be a lot different before we get through our training camp schedule."

Oakland Avengers Defeat by Aurora

OAKLAND, Feb. 28—Oakland high's basketball team trimmed Aurora (Va.) high tossers, 27-11, here tonight to avenge a 40-16 loss to the West Virginians earlier in the campaign. Last week, the locals captured two battles away from home, shading Grantsville high, 19-18, and turning back Elk Garden (W. Va.) high, 17-12. Oakland will wind up its season here Friday night by meeting Central High of Leonaconing.

The Oaklanders set the pace throughout tonight's scrap, leading 7-4, 16-9 and 24-14 at the quarters. For and Rook shared nine of the winners' thirteen field goals while the Aurora passer had more than a single doubledecker. The lineups:

Nothing Wrong with Bucs Forty-eight Racers Now Gar Wood Believes War-Eligible for Fifty-fourth Manager Says

By DONALD SANDERS

BALTIMORE, Feb. 28 (AP)—Gar Wood believes the armed services, which borrowed racing boat designs for fast fighting vessels, will repay the debt by making possible postwar marine speeds well above 200 miles an hour.

The silver-haired veteran of international trophy racing expects to use some of the wartime discoveries in challenging his own world's record for speed boats in competition.

"New and lighter metals are being perfected," he explained, "and engines will be much more powerful. Why, the sky will be the limit on speeds."

In addition, other three-year-olds may be eligible by payment of a fee of $1,500 before April 15. The supplementary nomination system, started several years ago by Lt. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, then Pimlico's president, produced its first winner last year when Count Fleet romped off with the second leg of the triple crown.

Are Added on Final
Registration Day

Five hundred and sixty-eight new voters were added to the city books in twenty precincts yesterday on the final or two registration days before the biennial municipal contests next month.

Yesterday's registrants included 318 women and 250 men and increased the two-day total to 768. One hundred and six males and ninety-four females registered on the opening day Monday, February 21.
